India - Land of Business Opportunities

GDP : Approx. US$ 3.3 trillion (at PPP basis)
GDP Growth : 7%
Ink Industry Growth : Annually 10%+

Ink and Coating Industry The growth story continues

INDIA, one of the top ten economies in the world, has the second largest GDP among emerging economies based on Purchasing Power Parity. The sheer size of economy has opened up new business opportunities to the world in all walks of business in general and ink industry in particular. Ink and coating industry in India is one of the fast growing industries which has its influence on all industries directly or indirectly.

- The sales of ink in India has seen double-digit growth year on year, surpassing US$370 million. As per the industry sources, this growth is expected to be doubled with in coming years with the world economy showing positive signs of recovery.
- In India, ink industry is a high growth segment that grew by nearly 10% during the year in volume and about 15% in value terms.
- The positive aspect of this growth is that it is driven by huge domestic consumption and is backed by strong investment in packaging, the rise in literacy level and increase in consumer spending.
- With the large and fast growing Indian middle class population and improving standards of living and literacy, there are tremendous demands for packaging and print media thus providing acceleration to the growth of Ink Industry.
- With the growing industrialization and urbanization, the demand for printing jobs and thereby for the printing ink is increasing day by day creating bright scope for new investment in this market not only for Indian companies to increase their share in domestic market but also for International companies to explore new business opportunities in India

The Fair

Identifying the Indian market as the new manufacturing hub for Chemical Industries and looking at the tremendous increase in demand for packaging and print media, All India Printing Ink Manufacturers Association – an apex and sole body representing printing ink industry in India with a mission to represent the Indian printing ink manufacturers globally by promoting and protecting their interest with suppliers, customers and the Government along with Koelnmesse YA Tradefair – an Indian subsidiary of Koelnmesse GmbH, through Asia Coat+Ink Show 2010 seeks to provide an International platform to all suppliers of Pigments, Resins, Oils, Chemicals, Machinery & Equipments and manufacturers of inks and coatings under one roof. AIPIMA with a successful show in 2008 with over 75 companies participating in the show is all set to continue the success in its 2010 edition.

International Conference:

A high level international Conference to provide an interactive platform to the ink and coating industry with delegates coming from all across the world will be organized by AIPIMA.
